

Does God Exist?

The Magnitude of The Inquiry

By Ben Bilyeu

The issue of whether or not a Transmaterial Being exists is the most profound question the mind of man will ever contemplate! Stated simply, If God exists, He is the frame of reference, the measure of all things! However, if God does not exist, man is the frame of reference of all things – the measure of nothing! If God does not exist, the consequences for the meaning of human existence are catastrophic. So titanic in fact are the implications, that the English language does not possess the vocabulary to accurately communicate the magnitude of nothingness which is the quintessence of humanity— if, indeed, the human species is forlorned in the cold and dark cosmic void! If God does exist, the consequences for the meaning of human life are antithetical—man is more significant than the sum of every treasure the human mind can conceptualize! If God does not exist, human existence is categorically absurd—on every level, for every person, who has ever lived, and for those who will suffer the misfortune of being born into this world—the conclusions of Schopenhauer being more certain, more disquieting than anyone dare admit! If God does not exist, the one who writes these lines, the one who reads these lines—are both— nothing, beings void of any criterion of worth, void of any redeeming virtue! If God does not exist, every effort by secular man to invent meaning in life is an obscene lie and a blackguard of even the most elementary logic! If God does exist, human existence is of a worth that bankrupts the viability of the King's English to describe the regal nature of Homo Sapiens. Every individual life, even the most destitute illiterate pauper, is a majestic entity possessing dignity and innate worth that goes off the scale, a divine Rembrandt animating an organic frame. The question "Does God exist?", far from being a mere academic curio or quaint intellectual chitchat for the lecture halls, or rebellion of neophytes against an oppressive childhood, is emphatically, the single profound question of human contemplation! The supposed queries of merit that so oft preoccupy modern man: the microstructure of matter, the prospect of microbes existing on Mars, and the possibility of extending the human life span to centuries, are infantile, the mere stammer of the retarded in contrast to the question "Does God exist?" For if God does exist, He is reality, and matter, space, time, energy, and fields are but shadows cast. If God exists, He is the measure of all things—the immutable frame of reference. If God does not exist, man is the measure of nothing and the sum of human accomplishment, glory, and magnanimity is but a refuse heap and the doxology of man is an inconsequential murmur in the cold and blackness of a cosmic night.

Amateur atheists, fair weather infidels and junior philosophers, have yet to fathom the catastrophe awaiting the Human Species if the ideology of atheism was wholly unleashed upon man! (The devils in Hell would enjoy a field day unimaginable to Dante. For there is one possession that must never be given to man—under any circumstance, and that is for him to have absolute power over his peers. Absolute power always creates devils—always—and the ideology of atheism is the primacy of man, Homo diabolik, in embryo.)

If God is nonexistent, not only is the meaning of human life, meaning for every human life, absurd—worthless—but the second vital essential for human existence, i.e., a criteria of right and wrong is, defacto, non existent as well! That is, if a transcendent frame of reference of right and wrong does not exist (and the only transcendent frame of reference possible is contingent upon the existence of a Supra—natural Being, the matrix of reality), It is impossible for man to invent a criterion of ethics or to legislate a constitution of values by which to govern and direct human behavior. If God does not exist then Darwinian Evolution (the only other metaphysical explanation of human existence) is true and the singular edict of Darwinianism “only the strong survive,” is the frame of reference for the human species! And humanity is yet to realize the full consequences of the “only the strong survive” ideology, although a haunting premonition was given at the hands of the master race—the Third Reich—in the death camps of Auschwitz and Daccau!!

If a transcendent frame of morality and ethics is non-existent, the logical consequence of a Godless universe is that any human behavior is acceptable, and the individual philosophy of life of centrality: selfishness, greed, and indulgence, is the only logical mode of existence for a being who is destined to six or seven decades of consciousness and then darkness— forever!! Further, perpetual war to vanquish inferior races is the only logical national policy. As Darwin foresaw: “Looking to the world at no distant date, what an endless number of the lower races will have been eliminated by the higher civilized races, throughout the world.” And one does not have to look very far for that letter was written by Charles Darwin, July 3, 1881 and in September, 1939, a mere 60 years later, the storm troopers of the master race invaded Poland. To put it another way, how would one like to wake up tomorrow morning and discover a world in which the dominant philosophy of individual existence and civil policy is rabid selfishness? And the right to life is extended only to the strong individuals of the species, a world where eugenics is the primary edict of public health in order to insure a master race, where invalids and the handicapped, the retarded, the blind, those afflicted with diseases, are promptly and efficiently liquidated. If a Transcendent Being, an immutable frame of reference, does not exist, then the only rational philosophy of life, the only other doctrine of existence, is Darwinian evolution, and the frame of reference of organic evolution is “only the strong survive”. Why? Because only the strong should be permitted to survive. Again, “why”? Because only the strong will ensure the viability of the master race, e.g., that future generations of productive individuals will continue. It is the only logical behavior to vanquish those individuals who are a constant burden and strain on the resources of society. The only crime against humanity is to jeopardize the master race by allowing the diseased, the deformed and the dysfunctional to continue to live and deplete the resources of society and worse still is to allow the inferior individuals and classes to perpetuate their own kind!

If God does not exist, then the essential ideology of Darwinian evolution— only the strong survive— should be given full reign. Darwin’s brave new world is the only logical course of human behavior for an efficient society. If indeed it is true that deity is but a belief system spawned by simple-minded and dysfunctional individuals unable to face, head— on, the stark reality of existence, then the human species exists only via blind chance, and the current zenith of human development is the singular and direct consequence of evolution and infirm individuals and inferior races should be subdued and eradicated. The process of neutralizing the defective individuals in society should be accelerated and not be restricted by tear-jerking sentiment and sympathy spawned by religious myths and fictions regarding kindness to those “less fortunate.” Myths handed down through the centuries for the millions of rejects and retarded of society by legislators and the simple minded stymie the effect of organic evolution, because only the strong, viz, the intelligent, the healthy, should be allowed to survive! While many (but not all) would revolt at the logical conclusion for human behavior mandated by organic evolution, if God does not exist, however the logic, is impeccable. But all the dastardly consequences for human existence cannot create God, nor can the hopes and prayers of millions. If He exists, the evidence, and the evidence alone will prove his existence....And the quest for that specific evidence is the essence of the inquiry! © 2005 From The Existence of God: A Rational Inquiry, By Ben Bilyeu; P.O. Box 1452, Cookeville, TN. 38503
